New Forest mum killer gets 32yrs

A MAN has been jailed for a minimum of 32 years for stabbing to death a mother-of-five as she tended her horses in a New Forest field after he was recruited to stop her making an accusation about a sexual assault.

Supermarket worker Ponnice Davis, 47, was found dead by her husband on September 2 in a field at Leygreen Farm in Beaulieu, Hampshire.

Justin Robertson, 36 (above), was found guilty of murder following a six-week trial at Winchester Crown Court.

He was given a life sentence and will serve a minimum of 32 years before he is considered for release.

Robertson agreed to kill Ms Davis (above) for Benjamin Carr, 22, the son of Ms Davis's ex-lover, to stop her telling police that he had allegedly sexually assaulted someone when he was 14.

Carr, of Southampton, was found guilty of conspiracy to murder and was handed a life sentence. He will serve a minimum of 30 years.

Robertson's girlfriend, Lian Doyle, 24, of Hythe, earlier pleaded guilty to perverting the course of justice after she disposed of his shoes.

'KILLER CAPTAIN' WHO STEERED 900 TO DEATHS

ARRESTED:

Mohammed
Ali Malek

THIS is the first picture of the migrant boat captain accused of killing 900 men, women and children in one of the worst maritime disasters since WWII.

Tunisian skipper Mohammed Ali Malek, 27, was arrested when he stepped onto Sicilian soil last night, some 24 hours after his boat capsized in the Mediterranean.

Before leaving the Italian coastguard vessel, however, he was forced to watch the bodies of 24 victims of the tragedy being carried off the ship for burial on the island of Malta.

He was later charged with multiple manslaughter, causing a shipwreck and aiding illegal immigration.

Ramming

Prosecutors claim he contributed to the disaster by mistakenly ramming the overcrowded fishing boat into a merchant ship that had come to its rescue.

As a result of the collision, the migrants shifted position on the boat, which was already off balance, causing it to overturn.

Malek was also pictured with his alleged smuggler accomplice, a 26-year-old Syrian crew member named Mahmud Bikhit, who is charged with aiding illegal immigration.

Both men were to be put before a judge last night.

Catania prosecutor Giovanni Salvi's office stressed that none of the crew aboard the Portugueseflagged King Jacob is under investigation in the disaster.

He said the crew members did their job in coming to the rescue of a ship in distress and that their activities "in no way contributed to the deadly event".

Meanwhile, the survivors

● GREEK authorities have picked up more than 120 migrants who entered the country by sea on three separate vessels, a day after a yacht carrying 90 people foundered off the island of Rhodes, drowning three.

The Merchant Marine Ministry said 42 people – including seven children – were taken off a small boat near the eastern Aegean Sea islet of Agathonissi.

A further 84 people were located in separate incidents on the islet of Farmakonissi and the island of Lesbos.

About 550 migrants have reached Greek shores over the past three days, amid a surge of immigration that has seen arrivals exceed 12,000 this year – a near threefold increase on last year.

were brought to a migrant holding centre in Catania and were "very tired, very shocked and silent", according to Flavio Di Giacomo of the International Organization for Migration.

Most of the survivors and the victims appear to have been young men.

But there were also several children aged between 10 and 12.

ED: MIGRANT PLAN IS STAIN ON EU

A EUROPEAN Union plan to cut numbers of deaths of migrants crossing the Mediterranean does not go "nearly far enough", Labour has said – with leader Ed Miliband warning it will be "a stain on the EU" if proper action is not taken.

EU leaders, including David Cameron, will meet in Brussels on Thursday to discuss the 10-point plan drawn up in response to the deaths of 900 people when a boat sank near the Italian island of Lampedusa.

The EU aims to strengthen its Triton patrolling service and seek a military mandate to seize and destroy people-smugglers' boats.

Mr Miliband said: "We haven't really got to a situation, have we, where we just let people drown? We cannot do that. "Frankly, it is a stain on the EU if we don't take proper action."

Ex-Auschwitz guard: 'I share moral guilt'

A FORMER Auschwitz guard has told his trial that he bears a moral share of the blame for atrocities at the Nazi death camp, but it is up to judges to decide whether he deserves to be convicted as an accessory to murder.

As his trial opened, 93-year-old Oskar Groening (above) acknowledged having helped collect and tally money as part of his job dealing with belongings stolen from people arriving at the concentration camp – earning him the nickname 'Accountant of Auschwitz'.

In his statement to judges, he didn't detail direct participation in any atrocities.

He said: "I share morally in the guilt but whether I am guilty under criminal law, you will have to decide."

He faces 300,000 counts of accessory to murder over allegations that he helped the functioning of the Nazi death camp by serving as a guard between May and June 1944, when 425,000 Jews from Hungary were taken there and at least 300,000 were almost immediately gassed to death.

Groening does not deny serving as a guard but says he committed no crime. He told reporters as he arrived at the court in Lüneburg, south of Hamburg, that he expects an acquittal.

Groening served at Auschwitz from 1942 to 1944. There are 11 open investigations against former Auschwitz guards, and charges have been filed in three of those cases, including Groening's.

Radio 1 Grimmy 'faces the chop'

BBC radio presenter Nick Grimshaw could be facing the sack after calling in sick on Monday following a wild weekend partying in Istanbul, bookies say.

According to the bookmakers, the Radio 1 DJ (right) may be axed from the show after missing his shift with a sore throat after a weekend of hard partying.

He returned yesterday but bookies reckon there is a 10/1 chance his job could be at risk. A spokeswoman for the bookies said: "It's not out of the equation that Beeb bosses could sack another high-profile presenter."

Ginger takes the biscuit on Spotify

ED SHEERAN (above) has become just the second artist – and the first Brit – to hit TWO BILLION streams on Spotify.

The ginger warbler, 24, who is currently on a world tour, followed US rapper Eminem in achieving the feat.

He had already claimed the record as the most-streamed Spotify artist of 2014.

And his latest milestone comes despite the release of just two albums.

Mark Mitchell, head of Atlantic Records UK, said: "Ed achieving two billion streams with just two albums is a crazy achievement."

"It highlights the popularity of his timeless sound and the explosive growth of his army of fans."

Spotify chief Kevin Brown added: "Breaking the two billion barrier is just more evidence of Ed Sheeran's enormous popularity among the 60 million music fans on the service."

Snap out of it Kelly – you look fit!

GEORDIE SHORE babe Charlotte Crosby says Kelly Brook shouldn't be mad about her nude snaps, because she's HOT in them.

And sexy brunette Charlotte says she wouldn't mind the same happening to her – as long as she looked good!

Curvy Kelly had a series of naked pictures released by hackers last week.

But reality TV babe Charlotte (above) had some comforting words for her.

The 24-year-old said: "Poor Kelly Brook had some nude pics leaked."

"If she looks good in them, who gives a f---k?"

"You look good, you're naked, pat yourself on the back, Kelly!"

"If it happened to me, I wouldn't mind as long as I looked good."

"Before I lost weight, I looked like Mr Blobby. I'd never want anyone to see me like that."

STRAIGHT TALKING

FROM UKIP'S DEPUTY LEADER

First past the post keeps big two parties cosy

THE Premier League is over for the season.

We may as well crown Chelsea now – because there is no way it's going anywhere else this year but Stamford Bridge.

I can't see Chelsea losing another game this season – and that's not because I think they're that good, it's because the league is so poor.

I agree with former Man Utd boss David Moyes who said it's the poorest Premier League in years.

Moyes was pilloried for saying it by people who said it was a case of sour grapes.

Dumped

But it is obvious to any football fan that this has been a pretty poor season in terms of real "quality".

The teams at the top have gone backwards, proven by the fact all English teams were dumped out of European competitions at such early stages.

And it is debatable whether those at the bottom are as good as those who lead the Championship.

So roll on next season and let's hope in terms of quality it's much better than this one.

And lastly – painful though it is for a Liverpool fan to say it – congratulations, Jose!

EVERYONE is obsessed by polls at the moment.

Not a day goes by without hearing an expert tell us the Tories are up by two points or Labour are down by one.

But should we all be getting excited and do these polls really matter?

The answer is they should matter, but in reality they don't. Wherever a party is in the polls it will get nationally – and that should determine how many seats it gets in parliament.

So if the Conservatives get 33 per cent of the votes, they should get 33% of the seats.

Or if UKIP get 15%, then our seat haul should be somewhere in that ballpark. Shouldn't it?

Well, no. It just doesn't work like that, even though it quite clearly should.

Instead, we have a system whereby each candidate fights a head-to-head battle in a small constituency of around 70,000 people – and winner takes all.

So if the Labour candidate in a constituency gets 10,000 votes, the Lib Dem 9,999, UKIP 8,000 and Tory 6,000, Labour wins and you get a Labour MP.

On the face of it that might seem fine, but it means that all those who voted for parties other than Labour get NOTHING – even though all their votes combined are more than DOUBLE that of the Labour "winner".

The vast majority of us live in so-called "safe" constituencies, where a party is so entrenched that if they put a rosette on a pig it would still get elected.

As a result, there are only about 100 seats out of 650 which change hands from election to election – meaning just 15% of voters nationwide actually make a difference.

Swing

So the election is pretty much decided by around 300,000 people who vote in "swing" constituencies, and the policies of our political parties are designed to appeal to those small few rather than the very many.

This is why all parties – except UKIP and the Greens – have pretty similar policies. They're all chasing exactly the same vote.

This may well have worked in the 19th Century, but that is where it should have stayed.

We're supposed to be a fully functioning 21st Century democracy – so why haven't we got one? And why don't the Westminster parties do something about it?

They won't, because they all benefit from what is an Establishment stitch-up.

The electoral system we have, known as the "first past the post" system, is designed to provide supposedly stable government.

But in reality this merely ensures the cosy club at Westminster carries on unaltered by blatantly favouring the big two parties.

It also ensures that people with alternative views are not represented in the House of Commons AT ALL.

It's time we did away with this failed old system of voting and brought in something new.

Something that ensured every voice – was heard and every viewpoint was represented in the corridors of power.

The only way to do this is by having a system where every vote counts.

And that means some form of proportional representation.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM

THIS WEEK?

Fat cats' salaries have spiralled out of control

IT SHOULD not come as any surprise to learn that NHS bosses awarded themselves a whopping £35million in pay rises last year.

Faceless bureaucrats that wouldn't know a bandage from a sticking plaster who constantly cry "poverty" when they shut wards and scrap services.

But while denying the very people who pay for the NHS its vital services, like all other executive tiers of the public sector, they can always, ALWAYS find money for themselves.

Criticising the NHS can be like running wildly across a minefield.

People will rightly argue with glowing stories of giving birth, help through cancer, brilliant nursing, the specialist who never gave up on them.

Even those with genuine complaints will normally concede one bad experience with the NHS does not reflect the entire organisation.

But all of that is to miss the point, which is this – the people running our huge public institutions are taking the piss out of the taxpayer.

You don't have to like the Daily Mail – the newspaper which exposed the latest NHS scandal this week – to agree with its sentiment.

Ransom

The wages of senior public sector managers and directors have spiralled out of all control while they casually slash the services that those monies could and should have gone to instead.

In comparison to the people who work under them – doing actual jobs, as against pushing pens across expensive desks in plush, newly carpeted offices – they are earning a king's ransom in return for very little.

Councils, hospitals, education authorities, local transport executives, police commissioners – the list goes on and on.

All of them led by besuited donkeys on enormous wages handed out under that lazy excuse of "having to pay the right money to get the right people".

It's a crock of shit – but people are finally waking up to it.

All of these tin-pot emperors in new clothes think these institutions are there primarily to satisfy their personal cravings for power, money and status – things they'd never get in the real world.

Don't buy into this "best people" charade. Not a single one of these "executives" is a target for big business.

They're merely all members of the same merry-go-round of public sector fat cats, floating seamlessly from one public board to the next, trowling taxpayers' cash into their cast-iron pension pots while awarding similarly megabuck salaries to their mates.

Can you remember a single occasion when any of these self-regarding civil servants was headhunted into the private sector?

It just doesn't happen. Instead they flit from hospital trusts, to local councils, to useless quangos with "vision" in the title, to housing associations, and then back to a neighbouring hospital trust to start all over again.

It's a tremendous scam – the gift that keeps on giving, not least because we have to pay for it under threat of jail.

It is a true sickness in our society – and it's high time it was cured.

Legend Joan has moan over arrest mix-up

ACTRESS Dame Joan Collins (above) bizarrely took to Twitter to clarify she was NOT arrested during a demonstration in Ireland.

The 81-year-old screen legend, best known for her role as diva Alexis Carrington in hit TV show Dynasty, moved to distance herself from her namesake, an Irish parliamentarian detained during a protest over water charges in Dublin.

The real Joan Collins tweeted: "No I am not the Joan Collins who was arrested yesterday at a Dublin protest meeting! The very idea!!"

In a quick-witted riposte worthy of the sharp-tongued Dynasty persona, the other Joan Collins – a United Left Alliance MP – hit back that she should not be confused with the British screen star.

"For the record I'm not @joancollinsobe. I'd never take an honour from a monarch, nor did I wear shoulder pads in the 80s. The very ideal!" she tweeted, before adding: "Ok, maybe I wore shoulder pads – there was very little choice in the 80s."

Beeb 'sorry for anal probe' TV

RED-FACED telly chiefs are under fire after they showed an ANAL SEARCH during primetime TV.

Shocked viewers saw a prisoner "spreading his buttocks" during a strip search on Brits Behind Bars, broadcast at 7pm. TV watchdog Ofcom said "detail of a man's anus" could be seen during the documentary, shown on local station Made in Cardiff TV.

The show followed 10 British "petty criminals" who were sent to America to experience life in a tough detention centre.

Made in Cardiff TV has apologised and promised not to show "anything with overtly adult themes in a pre-watershed slot".

The channel, partly funded by the BBC licence fee, was launched last year as part of Jeremy Hunt's plans to encourage more local television stations.

Rape claim sergeant: It never happened

AN Army recruitment sergeant who served with the Special Forces in Iraq has denied sexually attacking 11 female cadets, saying it "never happened".

Edwin Mee, 46, is alleged to have carried out the attacks on girls as young as 15 between October 2010 and September 2011 while working at an Army careers centre in Croydon, London.

In the witness box, when Mee was asked about the three allegations of rape and 17 of sexual assault, he replied: "That never happened," and also stated: "I have never raped any person in my life."

The court has heard that Mee targeted alleged victims by staying late at the centre to conduct interviews, in which he "gauged their vulnerability".

One of the women claims she was a virgin in her early 20s when she fell pregnant after Mee raped her in a locked waiting room.

At the time of the alleged attacks, Mee was employed as a recruiting sergeant at the Mitcham Barracks Army Careers and Information Office in Croydon.

Mee, of Tavistock Road, Croydon, denies all the charges.

The Fancy singer said: "I love them so much I had to talk about them."

"Everybody said, 'I don't think you need to say it, because no-one will ever know - they're so small'."

"I said, 'I know but I'm a blabber mouth!'."

"I'd feel better not to have some secret. It's much freer to say it and then you don't have to worry someone will dig it up."

The Australian, 24, has had stick from net trolls for not being super thin.

But she said: "I hope women think, Iggy Azalea actually has a body that is relatable to my body."

The show – dubbed “Camomile Porn” by some critics because of the X-rated nuzzle scenes – turned Jennifer into a star.

And the melon-heavy babe confessed: “It was a shock the first time I opened a newspaper and there was a picture of me topless in it.”

“I hadn’t expected it to be a big deal. At 21, it felt like a lot of attention.”

“In her book, How To Be a Woman, a writer called Caitlin Moran said my nipples were ‘mouse-nose pink’. That’s a lovely description.”

Jennifer, who recently starred in Fifty Shades of Grey, can next be seen in upcoming movie Spooks: The Greater Good, which hits screens next month.

month, sparking rumours
they were an item.

While 25-year-old Jess — who has appeared on TV shows like The Only Way Is Essex and *Ex
On The Beach* — is keeping quiet about their relationship, pals say that they've grown
"very close".

Dazzled

One friend confessed to Midweek Sport: "It's early days yet, but Jess and Simon really like each other."

"And you can't blame
Simon for being dazzled
by Jess — she's a total hottie!"

If Simon IS getting his mitts on Jess' massive 32E curves he's one lucky lad indeed.

But it hasn't all been plain sailing for the All Rise star, who shot to fame back in 2000.

He struggled with depression after being made bankrupt, having lost a £10m fortune on disastrous property investments.

And our source added:
"If anyone can cheer Simon up, Jess can."

"She's the life and soul of the party, she's always got a smile on her face, and her eyes are simply intoxicating."

"Her massive boobs aren't bad, either!"

Jess, from Haslemere,
Surrey, is adventurous,
too, having recently scaled 19,340ft African mountain Kilimanjaro.

POP HUNK SIMON'S NEW BABE TOPLESS!

'EX-PRO WRESTLER IN PAEDO RING'

A FORMER pro wrestler was at the centre of a "predatory paedophile ring" that abused young boys at sex parties, a jury has heard.

The victims were said to have been passed around a group of men who visited the home of Gary Cooke, 64, in the Wrexham area of north Wales in the early to mid 1980s.

One of the defendants who visited Cooke's addresses was convicted paedophile Roger Griffiths, 76, Mold Crown

Court was told.

Opening the prosecution case, Eleanor Laws QC said:
"This case concerns a predatory paedophile ring."

"Troubled boys would go to Cooke's home, where they would watch pornographic movies, get plied with drink, given a drug — amyl nitrate — and be sexually abused."

"Afterwards, on occasions, they were given money."

Cooke — also known as Mark
Grainger — of Galway Road,
Leicester, is accused of 11
indecent assaults, four serious sexual assaults and two counts of indecency with a child.

Griffiths, of New Broughton, Wrexham, faces two counts of indecent assault. Five other men are accused of various charges relating to the paedophile ring. All seven deny the allegations.

One alleged victim says he was sexually abused by all seven between the ages of 12 and 15, while another alleged victim was said to have been as young as 11.

The case continues.

LIZ HURLEY ORAL SEX ROMP SHOCK!

The Royals babe stuns telly fans in US drama

LUSCIOUS Liz Hurley was at the centre of an ORAL SEX shock last night.

For her bed-hopping British queen character ordered a body guard to lick her PUSSY – on top Yank drama The Royals.

The cheeky scene has just been broadcast in the USA – and it has stunned ex-pats in America.

Last night, Brit viewer Ben Lockwood said: 'I never thought I would see the British queen demanding oral on TV.'

'I'm not complaining. Liz Hurley still looks awesome!'

In the astonishing scene, Queen Helena – played by 49-year-old Liz – is chatting with a bodyguard when he confesses his lust for her.

Lying back on a couch, Liz is seen to tell him: 'You've caught me on a good day. I'm melancholy. I'm stressed and I'm severely horny.'

When he attempts to undress, she tells him to keep his clothes ON.

Pulling up her dress, she opens her legs and says, 'Don't let's get ahead of ourselves.'

'Are you familiar with the expression 'At Her Majesty's pleasure'?' After he kneels between her open legs, the Queen smiles as he goes to work!

Brit Ben added: 'God knows what the real Royal Family would think of this show!'

Coffee sends plane plunging

THE sudden plunge of the Serbian president's plane last week was due to a co-pilot spilling COFFEE on the instrument panel.

An investigation showed he activated the emergency slat extension while trying to wipe the spillage up, which caused the F16 to dive and the brief shutdown of one engine.

President Tomislav Nikolic was heading to the Vatican for an official visit, which was later cancelled.

The plunge, which happened on Friday while the jet was cruising over the Adriatic sea, caused panic until the captain stabilised the aircraft and returned to Belgrade.

Britney's heaven scent!

POP babe Britney Spears is well fit – and she NOSE it!

The saucy songstress looked hotter than ever as she launched her new perfume, Rocke Femme Fantasy.

The unveiling comes as Britney turned on a heckler during a gig in Las Vegas, calling him a 'f---king asshole' after he'd branded her a 'fat bitch'.

Prostitute is tossed in cell after tossing off policeman

A POLICEMAN went above and beyond the call of duty when he arrested a prostitute – AFTER she'd given him a HANDJOB.

Escort Sara Otto (above) was nabbed by an undercover rozzler in Florida, who was investigating her for practising a "massage therapy" business without a licence.

An official police report describes how the cop booked in for a massage at Otto's home.

It adds: "After taking a short break, Otto returned naked from the waist up with her breasts exposed and, without permission, poured oil on and started massaging the officer's genitals."

"The officer paid Otto $80, got dressed and walked to the front door – where she was arrested."

The report said that afterwards, Otto, 36, told an officer "this was the first time that a client turned me down and got up and walked out."

She's due in court next week.

Winslet: I want to get filthy dirty

BUSTY actress Kate Winslet has blurted out how she's "filthy dirty" when it comes to nookie.

The thesp (above) is no stranger to an on-screen sex scene, having first bared her colossal pair in 1994 flick Heavenly Creatures.

And Kate, 39, says it's only natural that people expect her to be a RAMPANT sex bomb in real life too.

She said: "Do people expect me to be dirty all the time?"

"I probably hope to get filthy dirty – isn't that what every woman hopes to be?"

She plays royal gardener Sabine de Barra in new movie A Little Chaos, in cinemas now.

Kate said of her character: "She's feisty, she's headstrong and she's extremely bohemian. I fully intended to get as filthy dirty as I could."

KELLY: HARRY'S NOT MY STYLES!

NO CHANCE: Kelly wants a man not a boy

NEWLY single Kelly Brook has warned off 1D star Harry Styles saying she wants to date a REAL MAN!

The 35-year-old babe has been linked with teen heartthrob Styles, 21, after splitting with her fella two months ago.

But the former Big Breakfast presenter has told the hopeful singer he's got no chance.

She said: "I have to understand I'm older now. If I've got young boys running after me, it's got to be for the right reason."

"They're like little puppies. I can't be dealing with all that."

The stunner, who is starring in US sitcom One Big Happy, has been following the carb-free Atkins diet and lost more than half a stone.

Luckily her glorious 30FF boobs haven't been affected by the weight loss.

She insisted: "They're still the same size! I've always been happy with my curves."

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

● I'VE put on weight since I went on holiday last month... and I feel so much better!
Most women panic if they gain a few pounds, but I am completely happy.
I'm a dress size 10 and it's just fantastic. My clothes look better and I feel much more confident and sexy.
It's nice when someone grabs your bum and there's actually something to grab on to!

And yes, boys... my boobs are STILL growing!
I've gone from a DD to a HH-cup! They are almost as big as when I was modelling for the Sport back in the day.
In fact, I reckon we should do another sizzling photoshoot - "The return of Linsey's massive boobs".

● YANK comedian Rebel Wilson showed up at the MTV Movie Awards dressed as a Victoria's Secret model - and it was amazing!

She's a plus-size girl, and I think she looked fantastic in her lingerie and wings.

Later on, Rebel said that she wanted to make a statement about beauty standards.

She told reporters: "Sometimes girls will look at Victoria's Secret models and think they have to model themselves after that, but I really don't think that's the best."

I agree with that - those supermodels are too skinny. It also reminded me of Sophie Dahl, who became one of the first - and most famous - plus-size models back in the mid 1990s.

She was absolutely gorgeous and it was great to see a fashion model with a nice, curvy figure!
Hopefully, we'll see more busty models like her working for Victoria's Secret in the future.

It will send a really positive message - and it's sexy, too!

● HERE'S a surprise! Big Brother contestants Kimberly Kisselovich and Steven Goode have got married!
They tied the knot earlier this week at a private ceremony in Hertfordshire on Sunday.

I'm really happy for them. I remember their first kiss on live TV, and they seem like a really nice couple.

And Kimberly is so beautiful... Steven is a very lucky fella!

There didn't seem to be any magazine photoshoot deal involved - which was a nice change from most celebrity "weddings".
Maybe they really are in love? Wouldn't that be nice - getting married for love, not money!

Hopefully it will last - and best of luck to them.

Rent-a-gob Katie has gone too far this time

NASTY: Katie Hopkins

NASTY little rentagob Katie Hopkins has really pissed me off this week.

Katie really has proven herself a hateful, spiteful woman... AGAIN!

A few days before the Mediterranean migrant ship disaster she wrote that UK border patrols should use "gunships on migrants".

She also compared immigrants to cockroaches - which is blatantly racist.

And she has REFUSED to apologise for her remarks - despite hundreds of people losing their lives.

Human traffickers are disgusting. They take advantage of the poor and desperate people and make them suffer the worst conditions imaginable. Sometimes migrants are paying up to £10,000 to get locked up in these horrible ships.

But they agree to it because they are so desperate to have a better life for themselves and their children.
This disaster really puts their countries - and the human traffickers - to shame.

Nightmare

It looks like many of the victims perished because they were locked in cages, which is terrible.

It must have been a nightmare.
What could you do if the ship was sinking? They had no chance of survival.

I hope that this incident opens peoples' eyes to the terrible conditions of migrant ships. Let's just hope that Katie Hopkins comes back in a future life as a starving African woman - not some posh, white twt!

Then she'd really know and understand how it actually feels to be on the wrong side of the fence.

● SO, Casey Batchelor has been telling the press she's "given up sex". Ugh. I can't stand that woman!
Casey reminds me of that Aisleyne Horgan-Wallace - she's another topless model that went on Big Brother... and still thinks she's a celebrity.

Seriously, what's she ever done?
She whipped 'em out on Page 3 and now she wants to be "taken seriously as an actress". Poor Casey!

● THERE has been lots of headlines about so-called "hippy crack" in the press recently.

Last week, Liverpool footballer Raheem Sterling was exposed for taking it. Although legal, it has been linked to several deaths.

A few days ago, teenage EastEnders actress Lorna Fitzgerald was pictured inhaling laughing gas on a boozy night out.

This is nothing new, folks.
When I used to go on holiday to Ibiza, I would see LOADS of footballers with balloons full of laughing gas!
It was a big trend on the club scene - and by the looks of it, still is.
A lot of nightclubs actually sell them at the bar!

When I was younger, the popular legal high was amyl nitrates - or poppers. And they're still sold in corner shops today!
I think these celebrities are getting unfair treatment. They're not doing anything illegal and it's not even that dangerous.

Hopefully, everyone will just move on and forget about it.

● SUPERMODEL Gisele Bundchen did her last EVER catwalk show last week.

The Brazilian beauty is one of the most successful models ever, and is even a Goodwill Ambassador for the United Nations!

And she walked down the runway for the final time at Sao Paulo Fashion Week on Thursday.

It was an incredibly touching moment, and she looked simply gorgeous.

Gisele really is one of the all-time greats of fashion modelling.

And her husband - U.S. football player Tom Brady - paid a beautiful tribute to her on Facebook.

He wrote: "I am so proud of you and everything you have accomplished on the runway." Isn't that nice, eh?

And he's not too bad looking either!

Sheepish Brooke's farm hell!

CORRIE lesbo Brooke Vincent panicked when she saw a sheep because she thought it would EAT her!

The brunette beauty – who's straight in real life but who plays lesbian Sophie Webster in the ITV soap, was visiting a petting farm in Manchester when she had her terrifying encounter.

And the 22-year-old was so scared she couldn't go near the fluffy creatures!

Writing on her blog for Reveal magazine she said: "On Sunday I went to the petting farm near to where we live.

"I was quite surprised to find it was a nice way to spend my Sunday afternoon.

"Although when it came to feeding the animals I really got a bit scared.

"I've never noticed how freaky sheep's eyes are – and how big their teeth are.

"I couldn't even put my hand out – I thought they might bite it off!"

Loud lovers pay the price for noisy sex!

A COUPLE who kept their neighbours awake with their noisy all-night sex sessions have been fined.

Rampant Emanuel Angelo, 32, and boyfriend Athos Trevisan, 34, could not keep their hands off each other and made love nearly every day, claimed irate neighbours.

The sex sessions took place late at night at their flat in San Martino, near Milan, in northern Italy.

But their screams and caused locals to have sleepless nights.

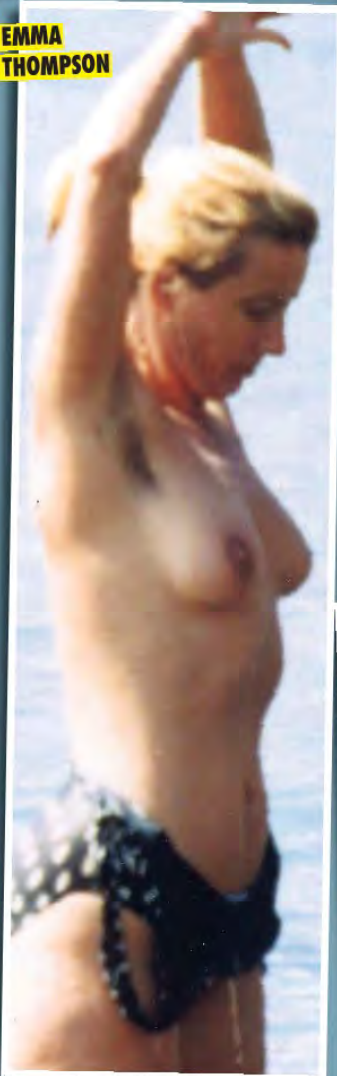

And after five years of complaining, the environmental health department took their case to court.

Relieved neighbour Luigi Rossi, 54, said: "Finally, we can get some peace. The noise from their lovemaking was constant and very loud."

The amorous couple were fined £8,652 by a court.

SEXY hottie Afrodite Night is a self-confessed nymphomaniac with a lust for BUM SEX!

The 28-year-old admits she's ADDICTED to shagging – and reckons that she's bonked THOUSANDS of horny blokes!

Afrodite, who is currently living in north London, told Midweek Sport: "I just love sex! It's literally my favourite thing in the world."

"And I really enjoy anal, too. I know some girls find it a turn-off but I just love how it feels."

"I've even been to a sex party! It was an incredible experience, but I am a bit of a nymphomaniac!"

The 34C beauty is also a hardcore PORN STAR who's appeared in flicks like Stretching My Pussy, Got Ass? and, of course, Cum On My Face 6, generally considered the best example of the classic franchise.

XXX MUNN!

STRIPPED:
Olivia is set to wow
X-Men fans

COMIC book nerds are boasting bulges in their Spandex pants after Hollywood scorcher Olivia Munn joined the cast of X-Men: Apocalypse.

The announcement was made by director Bryan Singer on his Instagram yesterday.

Busty Olivia will play a character called Psylocke – a telepath who is ‘able generate a telekinetic katana and who isn’t averse to taking a life’.

Mutant

Stunning Olivia was happy to bare her pert boobs and bum in 2012

male stripper flick Magic Mike (above).

The new X-Men movie is due out in May next year, but Olivia can also be seen in current telly show Miles from Tomorrowland.

Barnes stormer!

JANE THE VIRGIN BABE TOPLESS

SAUCY actress Priscilla Barnes is definitely NOT a virgin... just check out her incredible TOPLESS sex scenes!

The 59-year-old stars in new comedy Jane the Virgin, about a celibate woman who becomes pregnant, following a mix-up at a fertility clinic.

Priscilla, New Jersey, plays a scheming older lady who tries to steal money from hotel boss Rafael, the biological father of Jane's baby.

The plot doesn't make any sense, but it's already being called the "best new comedy of 2015".

And we can EXCLUSIVELY reveal Priscilla flashed her boobs for a slippery girl-on-girl sex flick!

She played a lipstick lesbian in kinky drama Erolia in 1994 with Danish model Camilla Søberg.

And Priscilla was also busting out as a STRIPPER in 1995 thriller The Crossing Guard, starring Hollywood legend Jack Nicholson. Jane the Virgin starts tonight (Wednesday) at 9pm on E4.

CASTLE BABE'S LESBO ROMP!

ROMP: Stana (above) and with Selma Blair (left)

THE sizzling star of U.S. cop drama Castle has an incredible LESBIAN past!

It follows the investigations of crime writer Rick Castle, who works with the police to solve "unusual" murders.

Canadian actress Stana Katic, 36, played NYPD detective Kate Beckett, who begins training for the FBI in tonight's episode.

And Midweek Sport can reveal that she whipped 'em out in romantic drama Feast of Love back in 2007.

Stana plays homewrecker Jenny, who starts an affair with bisexual housewife Kathryn (Selma Blair).

And Stana proudly displays her perky norks during a steamy lesbian sex romp - which unsurprisingly leads to Kathryn's divorce!

See Castle tonight at 9pm on All4.

'CBBC STAR'S KILLER FLED TO AFRICA'

VICTIM: Telly star Carl Beatson-Asiedu

A MAN accused of stabbing a CBBC star to death confessed to a girlfriend and fled to Nigeria on his brother's passport, a court was told.

Jeffrey Okafor, 24, of south east London, is accused of murdering Carl Beatson-Asiedu, 19 - who appeared in BBC kids' series M.I. High - outside a club on August 1, 2009. Woolwich Crown Court heard Okafor told his girlfriend that he had stabbed the victim in the stomach and gave her a pair of black gloves - asking her to look after them.

By JOHN GREEN

The court heard those gloves and DNA which may have come from the victim is on one of them.

On August 13 police went to arrest Okafor - who denies murder - at his home address and to search the house but he escaped, the jury heard.

ACCUSED: Okafor

The court was told on August 17, 2009, he flew to Lagos, using his brother's passport.

He was extradited from Nigeria in November 2014.

Trial continues.

Lennon the key Beatle? Ono he's not!

YOKO ONO claims the most influential Beatle wasn't former husband John Lennon - it was RINGO STARR!

The woman accused of breaking up the Scouse band reckons it wasn't Lennon or Paul McCartney who changed the band the most, but drummer and Thomas The Tank Engine narrator Ringo.

She said: "No-one is probably going to believe it, but he was the most influential Beatle."

"John would be up and down, but Ringo was always very gentle. And he really believed in peace and love."

Yoko made the comments as Ringo (above) was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

And she said she was puzzled by Starr only now being recognised.

"For some reason John got it, then George got it, then Paul got it. But why not Ringo?"

Starr joked: "I was doing press interviews and they're all saying, 'Why did you wait so long?'"

"It has nothing to do with me! You have to be invited!"

TV presenter slated after blacking up

A TELLY news host has made a grovelling apology after posting a pic online showing her BLACKED UP.

The astonishing gaffe (above) came as Aussie Fox News presenter Briony Ingerson attempted to support a colleague who's going on their version of I'm A Celebrity.

She wrote on her Instagram account: "In honour of our bestie @belindamorters running 'I'm A Celebrity Get Me Out Of Here', we have gathered across the country to celebrate the first episode. We Love You Linda!! xx #africa #hopethiswasheoff #jungle #ferns."

Offensive

She added: "Sorry if you're upset by this, no harm was intended, it was an African themed party #NotAtAllRacist."

But, after scores complained about the offensive make-up, sports reporter Ingerson released a statement saying: "I'm deeply upset my Instagram post offended people in the community."

"That was not my intent. It was a very poor error in judgement and I now understand how inappropriate it was. I offer my sincere apologies."

A Fox spokesman added: "We're satisfied Briony is apologetic."

LAKE FLACCID

A RANDY naked couple grabbed their clothes and fled after they were seen having sex by a queue of people waiting to hire PEDALOS at Charlton Lakes, in Andover, Hants.

HOLLYWOOD stunner January Jones flashed her glorious boobs at the Tribeca Film Festival earlier this week.

The Mad Men beauty, 37, was attending the premiere of action flick Good Kill in New York when she was caught slipping out on the red carpet.

One onlooker said: "January is an incredibly talented actress... and she's got a cracking pair of norks!"

"It was definitely the highlight of my evening."

DOG SEX PIC PERV JAILED

AN animal sex fiend has been jailed for shagging his landlord's pet DOG.

Officers seized a PC belonging to Mark Lloyd, 30, after a tip-off that he'd been using obscene chat rooms.

And police discovered an image showing Lloyd engaged in a sexual act with a Staffordshire Bull Terrier belonging to the owner of the flat he rented.

At Merthyr Tydfil Crown Court prosecutor Nicholas Jones said: "Enquiries were made by police in relation to that photo involving the dog.

"The defendant's landlord was able to identify the dog as his from the photo."

Convicted sex offender Lloyd, from Rhondda, admitted possessing and distributing indecent images.

As well as animal porn, cops also recovered a number of indecent images covering "all categories and one extreme image".

Judge Eleri Rees jailed Lloyd for 30 months and made him the subject of a 10-year Sexual Harm Prevention Order.

He will also have to sign as a sex offender indefinitely.

The 21-year-old glamour girl said: "I haven't done group sex – but never say never!"

"I am still young so there's plenty of time."

"I would definitely be up for having a three-way – with a guy and another GIRL."

"But I am quite greedy so I want plenty of attention from both of them!"

Curvy Charlie recently appeared on top ITVBe reality show The Only Way Is Essex.

And she told Midweek Sport: "TOWIE was a brilliant experience. It would be great to have a bigger role in the future – so fingers crossed!"

Girls are getting hotter for orgies!

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

A STAGGERING 70 per cent of women admit they would consider going to an X-rated SEX PARTY!

More and more upmarket swinging bashes are emerging in the UK, with firms like Killing Kittens and Pure Pleasure making orgies "sophisticated".

And a new survey by bedroom toy firm Lelo.com has found that more than two-thirds of UK ladies could be persuaded to attend one.

Meanwhile, eight per cent of respondents had already done so!

Those who had got naughty in a group setting said they'd wanted to take part having discussed it with friends or with a partner.

The majority – 62 per cent – said they had joined in the partner-swapping fun simply because they had "always wanted to give it a try".

Bondage

But it's not just orgies that are growing in popularity, so is bondage, discipline and sadomasochism – as displayed in recent movie Fifty Shades of Grey.

A whopping 75 per cent of female respondents said they'd tried "BDSM" with being tied up the most popular fetish, followed by spanking and being whipped.

A spokesman for Lelo said: "The figures speak for themselves – the vast majority of our respondents are incredibly positive about BDSM. They think it's safe, normal and they want more."

"They're also quite flexible with their tastes and are more than willing to experiment. There is a real appetite for sex parties, showing a trend towards more acceptance of sexuality.

Fifty Shades has had only a negligible influence on the sexual appetites of our respondents.

"It seems as though most of them were either already doing it, or were planning to."

Brunette stunna Jaime Kelly, 21, says she's already been invited to a sex party.

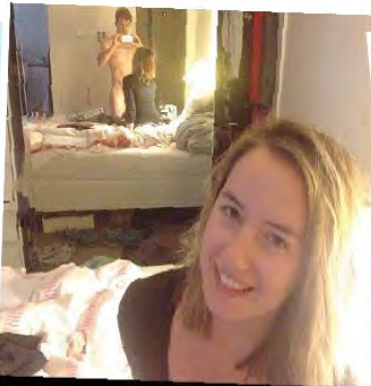

The 30D lovely, from Kidderminster, Worcs, says: "Sex parties are definitely more acceptable these days."

"A couple of my friends have tried them and they told me they loved the experience."

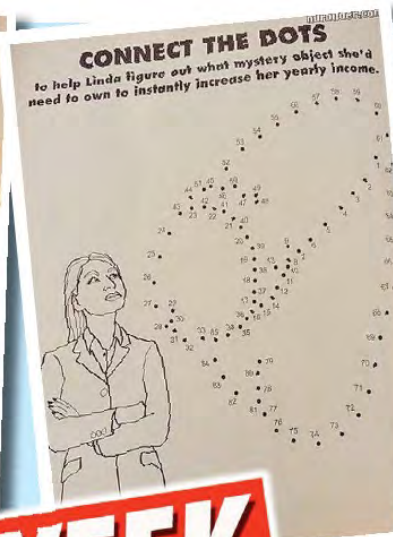

"They keep trying to get me to come along – and maybe I will one day!"

Island Fever was the ground-breaking hard-core porn film that rewrote the rules in terms of both content the budget.

The world's leading adult stars were taken to the paradise islands of Hawaii, then shagged daft in pin-sharp HD for our viewing pleasure!

This no-expense-spared extravaganza became the must-have DVD and copies changed hands at prices many times their face value.

The two follow-ups didn't disappoint and, if anything, pushed the envelope even further. This time the juices were flowing on tropical Tahiti and Bora Bora bore witness to bum tricks as even more red-hot babes dropped their panties and their inhibitions to bring us a tropical feast of fing and sucking.

The greatest cinematic trilogy since The Godfather would normally cost you £25 each but today, in conjunction with Private Shops we can offer you one for £15 or all three for just £25.

MY SEX FANTASY...WITH LACEY JAY

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

PERT party girl Lacey Jay will blow your whistle – and possibly something else!

Because she dreams of getting hot and sweaty at an all-night RAVE.

The blonde hottie says she loves massive house music gatherings and often attends party nights in central London.

And the 34C beauty, from Kingston, Surrey, reckons it would be amazing to reach climax as her favourite banging track reached a thundering crescendo.

The 20-year-old revealed: "I'm a massive party animal and love a wild night on the tiles, having a few too many drinks with my mates and dancing all night."

Knickers

"I used to hang out in classy bars around Surrey but they're so boring. I started going to all-night raves with my friends instead, and now I'm hooked!"

"A big group of us girls go and we dress up in little glow-in-the-dark-outfits – usually a crop top and a skirt or tiny hot pants. And we always have guys coming on to us."

"I often wondered about what might happen if I found myself alone with a really hot man in a dark corner of a warehouse somewhere."

"I think it would be amazing to have a quickie while everyone else is dancing around us!"

"We'd have to be discreet, so I'd just hitch up my mini skirt and pull my knickers to one side."

"The thing about house music is that you can really feel the bass reverberating through you."

"I reckon that sensation, along with the sex, would combine to give you an amazing orgasm – probably the best ever."

"I'd be far too shy to ever attempt sex in public, but it's definitely a turn-on to fantasise about it."

Green-fingered friend loves my wife's bush!

Dear Morgan,

A COUPLE of weeks ago I caught my wife bonking our "friendly" neighbour.

He's a very nice chap about 50 who took early retirement and who loves gardening. Me and my wife are both 35.

I heard them chatting in the garden and he said he would come round and "trim her bush". My wife found this very funny, so I suspected that she fancied him.

I told her I was going out golfing but returned within an hour to see if she was in fact shagging him.

As soon as I got in I could hear moaning and groaning coming from our bedroom upstairs.

I crept carefully up there and sure enough they were hard at it and I stood back from the open door where I could just about see them as my neighbour fked my wife.

She had her legs draped over his shoulders and the bed's headboard was banging against the wall as he pounded into her.

Just as he was about to climax he pulled out and positioned himself over her face where she then swallowed most of his load, as he came heavily all over her face and boobs.

After he got his breath back, they swapped positions - with my missus straddling over his face as he lay on his back.

Then he spent a good five minutes hungrily licking her out.

She was loving it and it wasn't long before she begged him to fk her again.

The trouble is I got so turned on by watching her having sex without her knowing I was there.

I think she's going to shag him again this Friday because she's booked a day off work and I'm going to watch again.

Do you think I'm weird?

JH, Merseyside

Morgan says...

NO. Lots of men are into this. But maybe you should tell your wife you've seen her at it with another man and that you really like it.

And then next time, you could perhaps fk her as well! I'm sure she'd love two rampant cocks to play with at the same time!

Caught on the job

Dear Morgan,

I'm a night security guard at an office block and one night last week I was doing my rounds when I heard sexy giggling coming from one of the offices.

I carefully peeped in and was amazed to see two of the fit young cleaning girls, both about 19 or 20, touching each other up!

Instantly my Johnson stiffened as I stood and watched the babes running their hands over each other's bodies, kissing each other deeply and toying with their stiff nips.

The blonde one then squatted down and tongued the redhead's beaver.

When the girls caught me watching I thought they would go mental - but they beckoned me in!

Soon the redhead had his cock in her gob as the blonde straddled my face with her dripping muff.

Trouble is, I haven't seen them since and I'm shit-scared CCTV will have caught our romp and I'll end up getting sacked!

DG, Northants

Morgan says...

WELL, at least you had some fun at work.

Letter of the day

Dear Morgan,

I'M a student who works part-time behind the bar at my local pub.

I've been knobbing the landlady - a busty brunette in her late 40s - for the past six months.

Her husband is a miserable bastard and often goes to bed early, leaving us to clean down the bar and lock up.

Once we've finished our duties for the night she likes to suck my cock before I fk the crap out of her.

She's very adventurous and often likes to dress up for me in sexy uniforms.

She has a naughty nurse outfit made from PVC and a sexy policewoman costume, too - which both have very short skirts and which she likes to pair with high heels, stockings and suspenders.

A couple of weeks ago I introduced her to a couple of my mates and we had a lock-in. We all had her in turns and one of my mates filmed it on his mobile.

The problem is that I think her husband has seen the clip and he has been known to be violent in the past.

What should I do?

HS, via email

Morgan says...

LEARN karate, or get another job - quick!

Dear Morgan,

I'M a mum of 43 with a daughter of 18 and last week her boyfriend popped round, when she was out, and confided in me that he was too embarrassed to buy condoms for them.

As I keep a few in my bedside cabinet, and I don't want my daughter getting pregnant, I offered him one and said: "See if this fits!"

But I was really shocked when he took me at my word, dropped his pants and revealed eight inches of rigid cock.

I'm sorry to say I couldn't resist helping him put one on - giving him a posh handjob until he filled the thing up with a wad of hot spunk.

Now I feel really guilty about the whole thing. What should I do?

ST, Bucks

Morgan says...

AVOID him and hope she never finds out.

Dear Morgan,

I'M a married businesswoman in charge of a big sales firm and I boss around dozens of men.

But this all changed last month when the firm was taken over and a new chief exec arrived.

He's a pushy type who is always effing and blinding at the staff.

At first I put up with him, but one day I blew my top when he criticised me.

When I calmed down he smiled and said there was only room for one boss and I'd have to learn my place.

Well, I was fuming inside at this, until he grabbed me, bent me over his desk, pulled up my skirt and gave me a good spanking!

I was so shocked I did not try and resist as he then teased my fanny with his expert fingers until I was virtually begging for him to fk me over his desk.

Now when I'm randy, I am deliberately rude to him and he spansks me.

Is this a normal working relationship?

PG, Bolton

Morgan says...

NO - sounds like you've got everything in hand.

Michelle Morgan says...

But I would NEVER sleep with an ex-boyfriend. They are just off-limits for me. I think it can be awkward when feelings gets involved. I wouldn't want to fall in love with somebody again if I know they aren't right for me. So, I just stick to 'friends with benefits' instead!

We asked stunnas Michelle Morgan, Jamie McKenna and Ryana Daniels whether they've ever jumped an ex.

Jamie McKenna says...

But I'm much more satisfied with my new partner — and I do NOT miss my ex. Ha-ha!

Ryana Daniels says...

I HAVE to confess I slept with an ex-boyfriend because I wanted him back.

It sounds a bit needy, but I was feeling lonely and I just had a fling with someone who was really disrespectful.

I remembered how great our sex life was, so I sent him a message on Facebook. I didn't expect him to reply, but later that night we were shagging!

We hooked up a couple of times afterwards, but it became obvious he was only interested casual sex.

So I decided to end things. He was a bit disappointed, but it was the right decision!

BOOBS ON THE BOX

Britain's only NAKED TV guide

with SIMON DEAN

ITV4, 12.15am, Born on the Fourth of July Cordelia Gonzalez plays a Mexican hooker who does the business for Tom Cruise's crippled character at 1hr 43. To be honest, it's a lot of very heavy going to get through for a pair of teats.

Horror Channel, 12.45am, BreadCrumbs Zoe Sloane making a porn movie. Well worth staying up into the middle of the night for.

Movies4Men, 10.10pm, The Pornographer Despite the title, not the fleshiest you'd imagine. But Monique Parent does a good "opening the door naked" bit at 52 minutes.

CROCKED:
Gareth Bale

GARETH Bale is OUT of tonight's Champions League clash between Real and Atletico Madrid with a calf injury.

The ex-Tottenham forward, 25, was substituted with the problem after just five minutes of Real's 3-1 home victory over Malaga on Saturday.

"Bale has been diagnosed with a muscular injury in his left soleus. His condition will be evaluated," his club said. The first leg at Atletico ended 0-0 and it was not the feast of flowing football we all expected.

But hey, it is a bitter derby. Los Merengues are also without Croatia midfielder Luka Modric, who suffered a knee ligament strain against Malaga and is expected to be unavailable for six weeks.

However, Real coach Carlo Ancelotti is hoping France striker Karim Benzema will be back after missing Saturday's win at the Bernabeu with a knee injury.

Brazil left-back Marcelo is suspended for Real, meaning Portugal international Fabio Coentrao will start. Atletico coach Diego Simone welcomed Croatia striker Mario Mandzukic back to training on Monday, after he missed Saturday's win at Deportivo La Coruna with an ankle problem.

REAL MADRID v AT MADRID: 7.45, $S1

But Los Rojiblancos will be without suspended midfielder Mario Suarez against their neighbours in a repeat of last year's final, which they lost.

Surely this is going to be tight, isn't it?

Despite their injury woes Ancelotti is confident.

He said: "There was a drop in February due to some injuries but now we have returned to our level."

"We hope to be competitive until the end of the Champions League. For the game against Atletico we are not worried, we have to find solutions to some absences. It is a great challenge but we will face it at home with great optimism. The Bernabeu will give us a good boost."

Someone's men may have fallen short of the domestic form they showed in winning La Liga last term but are still formidable in Europe.

The defeat to Real in Lisbon is Atletico's only defeat in their last 10 European matches against Spanish rivals and, in Antoine Griezmann, they have one of Europe's most in-form strikers.

The France star has six goals in his last five games and Raul Garcia — a possible switch for suspended Suarez — says Griezmann's form can see Atleti through.

"Griezmann's goals are very important, as they have been through the whole season," Garcia said. "All players, when they play, give their all, and he is adding a lot and doing what is needed."

"For us to reach the semi-final again would be immense. We must forget previous games against them. It helps to know that we have done well but we can't think of that because that would harm us."

"We're not reliving the past. It's clear we would have liked to win the Champions League final last year but this is another game, another season and we only think about that."

We think it will be a draw and keep us all up later than expected. Hopefully not goalless for entertainment. So we will bet on 1-1 at the best priced 7/1 with BetVictor.

Griezmann shows no sign of slowing down so we will take him for first scorer. William Hill, hang your head in shame for only offering 7/1. Fully two points bigger at 9s with Coral.

BETS: Madrid derby 1-1 draw (7/1, BetVictor); Griezmann (pictured) to score first (9/1, Coral).

MONACO v JUVENTUS: TONIGHT, 7.45, SKY SPORTS 5

WHAT do you call a Scotsman in the latter stages of the European Champions League?

The referee.

Terrible joke which Noah clutch in his paw while walking from the Ark. But true tonight.

Willie Collum — isn't that a name that belongs in this fine newspaper? — takes the whistle as Monaco entertain Juventus.

The Italians take a 1-0 lead to Monte Carlo after Chile international Arturo Vidal struck the only goal in last week's Turin opener.

And we fancy the hosts to turn this round. "We are here on merit," was the message from Monaco, and visiting coach Massimiliano Allegri was inclined to agree as he steels Juventus for their biggest test yet.

He said: "Monaco deserve to be in the quarter-finals."

"They finished above Benfica and Zenit in their group, conceding only one goal in six games."

"They have the best defensive record in France."

"They are very organised, with a good, clever coach. We are not taking this lightly."

Well said, old son.

BET: With that in mind it is 1-0 to Monaco for us (8/1 BetVictor). Enjoy yer penalties.

Diva to hit high notes

WE are flying — the three tips in the Sunday Sport all won and we go again tonight at Kinsley which is covered live on Sky Sports.

The main event is the Betfred Gymcrack worth £8,000 to-the-winner and features some of the countries top pups.

Southfield Jock was the tip at 9/4 and he is now a best priced 6/5.

I fancy him to get the job done and land us our bets.

It's going to be an amazing night of action the best bet on the card looks to Graignes Diva in the first live race.

She's only got one victory to her name from nine starts but she's been keeping top-class company. I make her odds-on to lead and if she does that at Kinsley then she won't be caught.

In the second race look no further than Droopys Vodka who lit up the Gymcrack in round one, he crashed out in the semi-finals but he can quickly get back to winning ways here.

Express Max is entitled to come on a ton from his first sighting of the Yorkshire venue and he looks the one they've all to beat in the sprint final.

SKY SPORTS RACE BY RACE TIPS FOR KINSLEY
19.11 T2 Graignes Diva (NAP), 19.26 T4 Droopys Vodka (NB), 19.43 T1 Droopys Knox, 19.59 T1 Mileheight Alba, 20.16 T6 King Kane, 20.33 T4 Express Max (TREBLE), 20.51 T5 Hather George, 21.08 T5 Southfield Jock (YANKEE).

TOTEPOOL JACKPOT/PLACEPOT

With £10,000 minimum guaranteed in the Tote Jackpot it's always worth a go and with the action being on Sky Sports you always get a bumper Placepot pool that's well worth having a go at. The first leg kicks off at 19.43 and here are my tips.

FIGHTING FIT

Johnston to scoop Epsom prize

TIMES may change but decent Flat handicaps do not.

The City And Suburban at Epsom (3.55) used to be a really big deal early in the season and still is.

There are only 11 in today's cast but it still deserves top billing.

Yorkshire genius Mark Johnston sends two down from Yorkshire.

The obvious choice is Sennockian Star.

He's got awful form figures but they came in better races.

But the stable jockey Joe Fanning prefers FIRE FIGHTING and two seconds

By OUR TOP TIPSTER MIKE FRANCIS

in three runs which suggests he is a winner waiting to happen.

The Inveterate Maiden 35 minutes later ought to be left to the juvenile kingpin Richard Hannon.

Selecting GAYATH is a long way short of being original.

But the trainer is on fire.

The jockey may have given the impression of being too arsed but recently he has booted in a couple of trebles.

That will do for us. In the last race, (5.05) we are going to something we have previously promised ourselves we would not do.

And that is tip a horse trained by Ralph Beckett. Mate, get over yourself. You are not called, phonetically Rayf.

You are no more Rayf than Rayf Coates was when he played for Burnley and England.

But we cannot see LEAR'S ROCK, losing this.

Hat-trick seeking and form rock solid.

The rest of the field have loads to find.

We cannot see Lear's Rock getting beaten.

But if it does, it will not be for the want of grammatical pronunciation.

TOP TEAM: Johnston and Fanning

Red raring to go in HK

RED CADEAUX is "fit as a flea" ahead of his tilt at the £2million QEII Cup in Hong Kong.

The nine-year-old is having his 25th racing trip abroad and trainer Ed Dunlop's assistant Rob Trevor-Jones couldn't be happier with him.

"He raced in Australia nine days ago. He's fit and he's travelled well. He'll have an easy week."

"We might give him a breeze on the turf on Thursday morning but we'll see how he does. He doesn't need much."

Red Cadeaux is £50 short of winning £5million on the track — that's more than the mighty Frankel.

"He just takes it all in his stride," said Trevor-Jones.

"Sure he has some management issues and that's why we avoid working or racing him on ground which is too firm... he's not 100% straightforward but no horse would be after 50 odd races over 70 odd miles."

"He's in great order and he still wants to be a racehorse. He'll tell us when he's had enough but right now he hasn't."

LAST WEEK FOR THE GREATEST EVER JOCKEY

REAL MCCOYSandown calls as AP enters final furlong*IT is the end of the greatest era in British racing history.

On Saturday, Anthony Peter McCoy will pull on his racing silks for that last time.

And that will be that.

You can forgive the perennial jumps jockey runner-up Richard Johnson for having a wry smile.

For the rest of us, punting life will never be quite the same again.

McCoy is bound to be a very hot property for Saturday's bet365 Gold Cup Chase at Sandown, as he will not be riding for his boss JP McManus in the Grade 3.

McManus does not have any entries left for the 3m5½f chase following Monday's five-day stage, with Cantlow and Gallant Oscar both scratched.

This leaves McCoy available in what will be his last meeting before retirement.

Top weight On His Own heads the remaining entries off 11st 12lb, with Rocky Creek next on 11st 11lb.

Trainer Paul Nicholls has left in Unioniste, Just A Par and Wonderful Charm.

Feature

The champion trainer said: "Unioniste could well run if they keep watering and the ground is good or easier, Rocky Creek is fifty-fifty at this stage, Just A Par could well run and Wonderful Charm is another possible after his fine effort at Aintree the other day."

Bobs Worth is still on target for the race, while First Lieutenant, Royale Knight and The Package all still feature among 40 entries.

Trainer David Pipe said of The Package: "It was a shame that he narrowly missed the cut for the Grand National, although it does mean that he goes to Sandown a relatively fresh horse and he will appreciate the sound surface."

Racing legend John Francombe told me: "It really is impossible to overestimate the significance of this day."

"The finest jockey. Flat or jumps and I include Piggott in that, will be gone. He won't of course. He will be on the telly, he will be in the papers.

By TREVOR CLEMENTS

"But he won't be sat on a horse in front of the public again."

"I experienced something similar with Richard Pitman."

"Nice man. Not as good as AP, but in his day he could cut it."

"Like Scu and the only man richer than the Duke Of Westminster (Steve Smith-Eccles)."

"You hated them and loved them at the same time."

"But you never stopped respecting them."

What characterises McCoy above all his peers is a sensational will to win.

Francombe added: "You see the f*cker down the newsgents in Lambourn on a Sunday morning."

"If you think you might beat him to the last copy of the Racing Post. Think again."

"He would merrily kick you out of the way."

"We have jockeys' five-a-side games and as an Arsenal player (in his dreams) he makes an adequate jockey."

"So if he loses even in a bit of fun; he is impossible."

"Celebrate him, love him, you aren't getting another in this lifetime."

Amen to that.

PRESSURE: Cook

Cook has to deliver says GattCRICKET

FORMER England captain Mike Gattling thinks Alastair Cook might need a break from the top job to get his career back on track.

The skipper has been on a shocking run with the bat and has now gone 33 innings without making a Test match ton.

He was in poor form again in Antigua and it was like pulling teeth watching him scratch around in the crease before being dismissed cheaply in both innings.

And Gatt – famous for putting away huge lunches and teas during his time in the whites – says it might help Cook to have a rest.

He said: "Maybe he needs a break from the captaincy, that's for people to sit and decide, I suspect it's about the runs though, not the captaincy."

Nerve

"He's a well-respected man in the team, the fact is he's a batsman, he's a captain and if he fails to get the runs somebody will have to make a decision."

But Gattling is adamant that England shouldn't lose their nerve and bring Kevin Pietersen back into the side.

KP is making big noises at Surrey and even says he's prepared to open the batting if it helps get his career back on track.

That's something of a challenge to Cook as he seeks to keep his position at the top of the order.

Gattling said: "There are a few bridges that still need to be rebuilt."

"Even if KP scores runs there might not be spaces available."

"If Gary Ballance, Ian Bell and Joe Root play well there might not be a place for him."

"You've got to have somebody who isn't playing well to get Pietersen in."

"He doesn't just come straight back – that would be unfair on the people in there at the moment."

"If he does get runs, fine, but that's not the end of it. If people are playing well in the team, why should he just get straight in?"

GOODBYE: Bale looks

6/4 for Man Utd Bale out

GARETH Bale is set to miss this evening's Champions League Quarter Final at the Bernabeu between Real Madrid and Atletico Madrid.

There has been much debate in recent weeks that the Welsh superstar will swap the Spanish sun for the green, green grass of home (well Old Trafford really) in the summer as part of a deal that will take David de Gea back to the Spanish capital. De Gea is evens at BetVictor to be playing for Real Madrid by the end of the transfer window on September 3 while Bale is 6/4 to join Louis Van Gaal's progressive United side who were perhaps unfortunate not to get a point at Stamford Bridge at the weekend.

We have a number of markets

GARETH HEADING TO OLD TRAFFORD

on high-profile players to move during the summer and up to and including the transfer window which is supposed to be the end of August but seems to get later each year.

Some below might be of interest:

James Milner to sign for Liverpool: 11/10

Danny Ings to sign for Liverpool: 9/4

Tom Cleverley to sign for Villa: 2/1 (currently on loan)

Tom Cleverley to sign for Everton: 4/1

Aaron Cresswell to sign for Chelsea: 5/1

Aaron Cresswell to sign for Man City: 6/1

Raheem Sterling to sign for Man City: 4/1

Raheem Sterling to sign for Arsenal: 5/1

Petr Cech to sign for PSG: Evens

Petr Cech to sign for Arsenal: 4/1

Memphis Depay to sign for Man Utd: 4/6

Romelu Lukaku to sign for Juventus: 8/1

Romelu Lukaku to sign for Man Utd: 33/1

Jack Wilshere to sign for Man City: 4/1

Yaya Toure to sign for Inter Milan: 2/1

Ross Barkley to sign for Man City: 9/4

Charlie Austin to sign for Newcastle Utd: 1/2

Theo Walcott to sign for Liverpool: 5/1

Real are 5/6 to beat Atletico tonight's, sure to be explosive, second leg with the tie on a knife-edge after last week's goalless draw between the sides in the Vicente Calderon.

The visitors are 15/4 to win with the draw at 11/4. Los Blancos are 1/2 to qualify with Atletico 13/8 and tonight's German referee, Felix Brych, will certainly earn his fee.

While I admire Atletico Madrid it is hard to warm to a side who, let's just say, mirror the style of their manager Diego Simeone.

SPURS CAN FOLLOW UP

TONIGHT sees the second play-off game between the Spurs at the Clippers and the hosts cannot surely play as well as they did in the first game when they blew away the holders who are out to 13/2 to retain their crown.

The Spurs are still the best side in the NBA in my opinion and, whilst they will have to do it the hard way, are taken to follow up.

They have to win at least one of potentially another three games in the Staples Center but whoever makes it out of this first round heavyweight clash can go all the way.

Spurs had a bad day at the office on Sunday; 13/2 is just too big.

HITMAN: Donaldson

Clayt just great, says Blues boss Rowett

Reading v Birmingham

Wednesday, 8pm kick-off

BLUES boss Gary Rowett is looking to Clayton Donaldson as his side looks to end their run of nine away games without a win at Reading.

Birmingham's last away win came at Nottingham Forest in late December and they added to those woes in losing 1-0 at Watford at the weekend.

Despite his side's problems, the striker has fired in 15 goals and led the line really well. Rowett is delighted with his contribution to the team, which sits safely in mid-table.

He said: "He's been brilliant."

"The first thing I always look at with any player is what do they give to the team?"

"Are they a team player and if they're a team player, then I look at the rest of the attributes."

"The first thing is he's a fantastic team player and he works his socks off and he is always unselfish the way he goes about things."

"Then the next thing you look at is what can't he do? He's got a little bit of everything."

Chances

"He's decent in the air, he's got very good pace, he holds the ball up well for others, he's got a little bit of physicality and he scores goals."

"If you look at the goals he's scored and if you also look at the chances he's created he'll probably be unlike most strikers in this division where I'd imagine a lot of them on 20 goals would probably be penalty takers as well in their respective teams."

"He doesn't do that and he's had a lot of other chances."

Rowett has Diego Fabbrini and Lloyd Dyer back in his squad for the trip to the Madejski.

The home side will be reeling from their FA Cup heartache against Arsenal — particularly goalkeeper Adam Federici whose blunder cost his team dear.

The Royals are not in the best of league form, with no win in their past six Championship matches.

Manager Steve Clarke is expected to ring the changes after his side played a punishing 120 minutes on Wembley's stamina-sapping pitch.

He could bring back Chelsea loanee Nathan Ake who was cup-tied at the weekend.

CRISIS AT ANFIELD...CRISIS AT ANFIELD

You bottlers

CARRA RIPS INTO KOP FLOPS AS BOSS FACES AXE

LIVERPOOL legend Jamie Carragher has launched a full-blooded attack on Liverpool's failing stars.

Carra has been upset by a run of poor performances by a Liverpool team that has fallen quickly out of the running for a top-four slot and been bundled out of the FA Cup by Aston Villa.

The Reds' slump started less than a month ago when Manchester United were convincing winners at Anfield, even if the final score was only 2-1.

Then came a truly shocking display against Arsenal who brushed a woeful Liverpool aside 4-1 at the Emirates.

That left Brendan Rodgers' side with a real mountain to climb to make the Champions League slot.

By CHRIS HANNAN

They sit level on points with Tottenham in fifth but have a seven-point gap to Man City in the crucial fourth position.

It doesn't look like last season's champions are going to fold so Thursday nights on Channel Five and the Europa League looks the best Liverpool fans can hope for.

Gutless

To make matters worse, the Reds were poor against Aston Villa in the FA Cup semi-final at the weekend, being beaten in a gutless display.

That wrecked Steven Gerrard's dream of signing off from Anfield by lifting the cup on his 35th birthday of all days. And it was enough to send Carragher spewing.

He raged: "Big games need big players to do big things."

"There are not many of them at Liverpool Football Club."

Carragher also turned up the heat on Raheem Sterling who has refused to sign a new Anfield contract, saying £100,000 per week isn't enough to secure his services.

Jamie isn't too pleased about that either.

He added: "It makes the wages demands of some ridiculous and the recruitment worse."

That final comment can only be interpreted as a dig at Brendan Rodgers and the club's transfer committee that reportedly buys the players. There have been some shocking buys lately at the Kop.

Most of the money brought in by selling Luis Suarez has been spent on players who look to be mid-table trundlers at best.

Liverpool fans should look away now at the list of players brought in by Brendan Rodgers and his now infamous committee since the Uruguayan hitman shipped off to Barcelona for £75million.

Shelled

It was £25m for Adam Lallana, £20m for Dejan Lovren and the same huge amount for Lazar Markovic.

Then a scarcely believable £16m was shelled out for Mario Balotelli to take is past the amount received for Suarez. To make matters worse, Alberto Moreno was £12m and Rickie Lambert a further £4.5m.

We don't yet know how £10m buy Divick Origi will get on when he arrives from Belgium in the summer but he's been bang out of form over there.

The only bright spot looks to be Emre Can — a snip at just under £10m.

So around £120m spent and only one signing that has slotted into the team.

That's one of the reasons why there have been a flood of bets for Brendan Rodgers to get the bullet as Liverpool boss.

One of Rodgers' favourite sayings is "losing is all part of the journey."

He can think about that while he makes his next journey — to the job centre.

NOT HAPPY: Jamie Carragher

WE'VE GONE CRAP, ADMITS BREN

By PETE BAILEY

UNDER-FIRE Liverpool boss Brendan Rodgers has been forced to admit that his team has gone down the bog since last season.

They were getting the bronze statue ready for the Northern Irishman last season when his team almost pulled off an unlikely title victory.

Then Steven Gerrard slipped on his arse against Chelsea — now the whole team has taken a massive tumble.

In being kicked out of the FA Cup at the weekend, Rodgers became the first Liverpool manager not to win a cup in his first three seasons as boss since the 1950s. That's not an accolade that will impress the club's American owners who were expecting Champions League football at the very least this season.

And Rodgers knows things have gone badly wrong.

He said: "We have failed to make the final steps in two competitions now."

"At this football club, there's an obligation to fight right until the very end."

"This season has been a real mixture. "The start of the campaign was not so good and there were various reasons behind that. Then we really picked up and were playing well, playing nice flowing football."

"But then there's been a block of maybe six or seven games where the performance level has not been what we would like — and that is very disappointing."

There seems little doubt that Liverpool's owners would like Jurgen Klopp in the Anfield dugout.

The German is being courted by Champions League clubs with much deeper pockets than the Reds but he could be attracted by the challenge.

And Michael Owen thinks

it's too soon to be shown the door. The former Kop idol said: "He's under pressure, there's no doubt about that. It has been a disappointing season."

"I really think that he should be given more time."

"Last season was the best time to be a Liverpool fan for many years."

"They were one slip away from winning the league for the first time in years."

"Brendan is a good manager and he deserves another year just based on last season."

"I don't think that the club is in a worse position than when he took over and he should get more time."

CROCKED: Bale

Bale force blown out for whites

R Madrid v A Madrid

Wed, 7.45, live on Sky Sports 1

GALACTICO Gareth Bale is a big miss for Real as they try to see off their Madrid rivals Atletico tonight.

The tie is finely poised at 0-0 and Real will be under massive pressure to get the job done in front of their own support.

But they will have to manage with the Welsh ace who is struggling to overcome a calf injury.

The 25-year-old hobbled off early into the clash with Malaga on Saturday and it was first thought he would be OK for tonight's game.

But a scan has revealed more damage than was originally assessed.

Luka Modric also limped out of the Malaga game and he'll be on the sidelines too — this time with a knee ligament problem that might have ended his season.

Karim Benzema is also out with the knee problem that stopped him at the weekend.

The visitors have a few injury worries too but key striker Mario Mandzukic trained with the side yesterday and is expected to be fit.

But midfielder Mario Suarez is banned for the repeat of last season's Champions League final.

Berba has semi hope

Monaco v Juventus

Wed, 7.45, live on Sky Sports 5

DIMITAR Berbatov reckons his Monaco side can upset Juventus and make it to the semi-final.

The Italians head for the south of France with a 1-0 lead from the first leg in Turin.

But the Monaco hitman is confident they can turn that slim margin around in front of their own fans.

He said: "The Champions League semi-final is within our reach."

"We're a good team, we've already shown that both against Arsenal, and a week ago in Turin. We did not deserve to lose."

"In the first half we should have had a penalty, if the referee had given it, it would have been a different game."

"Then in the second half we had a non-existent penalty given against us, but that's football."

"We look forward with confidence and optimism, we're preparing for the comeback."

HITMAN HEADING TO OLD TRAFFORD

RED-HOT PROPERTY: Memphis Depay is wanted by Man United and Liverpool

UNITED FANCY DEPAY RISE!

Van Gaal's keen on Dutch striker

By JOHN ANTHONY

MAN United look set to beat Liverpool to the signature of red-hot Dutch striker Memphis Depay.

The PSV striker is one of the hottest properties in European football — and Luis Van Gaal will use his Dutch links to make sure he arrives at Old Trafford in the summer. Tottenham bid around £15m for the 21-year-old last season but PSV rebuffed the offer, saying it was way short of what they expect.

Since then, Depay's stock has risen as he's fired in 20 league goals and cemented his place in the Dutch national team.

PSV boss Phillip Cocu is resigned to losing his star man.

He said: "We have had a telephone call from United about him."

"But no talks have been held. Several top clubs have expressed interest."

"It will be much higher than the offer from Tottenham Hotspur. He will be very expensive."

United are in the driving seat as it was Van Gaal who picked Depay for the Dutch World Cup squad when he led the national side last year. He faces a fight from Liverpool who have had good success in buying players from the Dutch league in recent years.

YES BOSS: Van Gaal with Depay at the World Cup

They brought Dirk Kuyt over and followed that up with an even more successful purchase in Luis Suarez who was at Ajax before making the move to Anfield.

As well as having Van Gaal in their favour, United have another trump card in their likely Champions League spot.

Liverpool are languishing in fifth at present and it doesn't look likely that they will make the top four.

Without being able to offer Champions League football, it makes their pursuit of Depay even less likely.

And the Scouse Reds face more worry over one of their stars who is soon to be out of contract.

They are already being put through the mill by Raheem Sterling who has turned down £100,000 per week for a new deal.

Now it seems new captain Jordan Henderson is going the same way.

He's in the final year of his Kop contract and early talks on a new deal are not going well according to Anfield insiders.

He's said to have turned down the club's initial offer, giving Brendan Rodgers a massive headache as Jordan is one of the few players to have performed well this season.

Down the M62 at United, there is little doubt that the hunt for a new striker is at the forefront of their plans.

Robin Van Persie has been a bit-part player this season and isn't getting any younger, while flop doesn't begin to describe the big money loan deal for Radamel Falcao.

The fact that Marouane Fellaini is playing up front these days underlines the lack of top-class firepower on offer at Old Trafford.

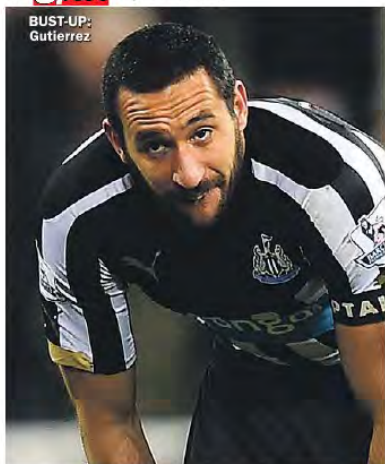

Move

Wayne Rooney aside — and he's been stuck in midfield for much of the campaign — no player has made the centre-forward spot his own.

As well as Depay, United have been linked with a move for Danny Ings, again in competition with Liverpool.

The 22-year-old is out of contract at Burnley when the season ends and is likely to be available for around £5m — a fee that has to be paid because of his young age.

That's not a signing that will get pulses racing among the Old Trafford faithful who will be wondering if he's any better than Danny Welbeck and Javier Hernandez, who have been shown the door since LVG arrived.

BUST-UP:
Gutierrez

TOON ARMY GO BARMY ON ASHLEY

By MIKE MURRAY

DISGRUNTLED Newcastle fans have turned up the heat on under-fire owner Mike Ashley.

The Newcastle United fans forum has demanded answers to three major questions about the way he's running the club.

They have already hit the owner — who owns sports store chain Sports Direct among other businesses — in the pocket by boycotting Sunday's home game against Tottenham.

More than 10,000 fans stayed away from St James's Park in protest at the way they see the club is being run.

A statement from the fans group says: "Whilst we fully appreciate the club's view on fan communication, we feel that the time has come to show our fans respect and make some kind of 'statement of intent' outlining your proposals to overturn the negativity surrounding NUFC."

"We would very much prefer this statement to come from Mike Ashley himself, owner of NUFC."

Demands

The questions to the owner are pretty long winded but in a nutshell, they have three demands.

1. To know what the club thinks about the fans boycott.

2. Why Jonas Gutierrez was left out of the team. Was it because he was critical of the club on social media?

3. Whether John Carver will still be managing the club next season.

The Gutierrez row broke out after he was reportedly left out of the side after a training ground bust-up with interim Toon boss Carver.

The fans are fuming as he's been one of their best players since recovering from testicular cancer for the second time.

After the bust-up, sources at the club say he won't be offered a new deal in the summer after seven years at St James's Park.

The 31-year-old said on Twitter: "I am tired about some things. I am Geordie."

Newcastle deserves more."

The Argentine has had a strained relationship with the club since they suggested he found a new club after he recovered from cancer for the first time in 2013.

The fans' boycott has caused a lot of anger on Tyneside — particularly after the club insisted there were more than 47,000 in the ground for the Spurs match.

The fans ground isn't having that, pointing out that there were a lot more empty seats on view.

They said: "Newcastle United announced the official attendance as 47,427 — Northumbria Police have also confirmed that this was the official figure provided to them by the club."

In reality, we all know that this figure is grossly over exaggerated.

There is simply no way that 47,427 supporters were inside St. James' Park."

STRIKER

Chelsea crisis with NOBODY to

By MIKE MURRAY

CHELSEA are desperate to get Diego Costa fit for Sunday's big showdown with Arsenal.

The Blues face going to the Emirates without NO fit strikers after Didier Drogba joined the Spaniard and Loic Remy on the sidelines.

Costa has been in and out of the side in the past few weeks after suffering a hamstring injury.

Remy is in the treatment room with a calf strain and the panic at the Bridge won't have been helped by Drogba's latest knock. The Ivory Coast forward was forced to miss a charity match at the weekend after going down with an ankle injury.

And the problems in attack is a big problem for Chelsea boss Jose Mourinho ahead of the visit to Arsenal.

Hope

It looks as though the title is all but won but defeat at the Emirates would give the Gunners a glimmer of hope that they could turn things around.

It looks as though the Portuguese is resigned to missing Costa for the next couple of weeks at least. The plan was for Drogba to fill in — as he did in the win against Manchester United — but that now looks unlikely.

There was talk of Remy playing in that match but he was nowhere to be seen and is thought to be some way off anything like full fitness.

Mourinho is clear about his plans for Costa.

He said: "Our target was for Diego to play the last four matches and Arsenal is the sixth match from the end."

With little firepower up front, Chelsea are likely to park the bus at the Emirates.

After all, Mourinho had no worries about going on the defensive at home to United so he won't think twice about deploying the same tactics on the road — especially as a draw would do the Blues very nicely.

But that could play right into Arsenal's hands, says one club legend.

Attack

Martin Keown wasn't known for his attacking prowess but the ex-Gunners centre-half reckons Arsene Wenger will send his players out to attack from the first whistle on Sunday.

He said: "Arsene Wenger hasn't gone with two holding midfielders very often, he likes to be creative in that midfield area.

"That has actually been a little bit of a weakness for Chelsea this season. Cesc Fabregas has played that role for them and Nemanja Matic has done it."

"So it's about getting the right balance in midfield. I think Arsenal will look to take the game to Chelsea and Chelsea will maybe use an extra midfielder player in there."

"Jose Mourinho usually finds a tactic to stop the opposition from playing and Wenger tends to just go for it."

Keown is realistic though and knows that it's a full four years since Arsenal came out on top against their London rivals.

The last Gunners victory was a 5-3 win at Stamford Bridge in October 2011 when Robin Van Persie smashed in a hat-trick.

Spanking

The most painful game for Gunners fans came last season when the Blues handed out a 6-0 spanking.

"Chelsea have been a bogey team for Arsenal and I can't remember the last time that they beat them," added Keown.

INTER A MOVE: Yaya Toure

Yaya: Bob Manc is my dream boss

By JOHN ANTHONY

YAYA Toure has given the biggest hint yet that he'll be quitting Manchester City in the summer — to join former boss Roberto Mancini at Inter Milan.

The midfielder says the former City boss is "his mentor" and he's made no secret of his desire to play for him again before his career ends.

And now he's told City that he's not motivated by big wages any more — and just wants to be happy where he plays his football.

The 32-year-old has looked to be past his peak this season, with a series of pedestrian performances with the odd world-class display thrown in.

And Toure has hinted that's because he isn't happy at the Etihad.

He brings in a mere £200,000 per week at the moment and his contract isn't up until 2017.

But that hasn't put an end to speculation that he'll soon be on his way.

Toure added to that by saying: "No amount of wages will make me stay at a club if I feel that I no longer belong there or if no challenge exists for me."

"It would be unjust on my part."

Challenges

"There comes a moment where numbers don't stop things being unjust on my part."

"There comes a moment where numbers don't stop us, it goes beyond that."

"For the future, I don't know more than you do, because I will always go where I am offered new challenges."

"That is in my nature. When things are not going well at a club, the key players take the fall."

And Toure didn't have to be pressed too hard to heap praise on his former boss.

He added: "Mancini is a mentor for me. I loved the time when he was here, like I love playing for City today."

One player coming in to Manchester could be Kevin De Bruyne.

The former Chelsea midfielder has been a big hit in Germany since signing for Wolfsburg and could slot in where Toure plays now.

His agent said: "I have met the people from Manchester City and we know each other."

"I think with the season Kevin has had if we didn't have these questions then there would be something wrong."

"I am taking 20 phone calls a day about Kevin at the moment."

City are thought to be prepared to pay around £20m to secure his services, with James Milner also on his way out of Manchester.

Liverpool want him in hotseat

EXCLUSIVE By TREVOR CLEMENTS
BRENDAN RODGERS is to be shown the Anfield exit door as the Kop go for a Klopp out.

Jurgen Klopp has made it as clear as a King's Cross streetwalker that he is on the market for Premier League suitors.

With Liverpool losing out on the FA Cup and the Reds dropping away tamely in the Champions League race, the Northern Irishman's LFC death warrant has been signed.

Klopp is ending a successful association with Germany's Borussia Dortmund this summer.

And he has a romantic attraction to the Red end of Stanley Park with the club's American owners prepared to get the chequebook out.

The bookies have slashed his odds to be in Shankly's old chair to just 4/1 by the end of the summer.

Our own betting supremo Charlie McCann said: "If I were a gambling man, which I am, I know where my money is going this morning."

"Brendan out, Jurgen in. It's a done deal."
